

What's on at Amerdale Hall - Arncliffe

We are getting really excited about If The River Was Whiskey which is coming to Amerdale Hall this weekend... It's been touring around the county to great acclaim and now it's coming to Arncliffe.

Come and join Holy Moly and The Crackers on Saturday 9th March at 7.30pm for an evening of lively music, tall tales and hard liquor. The perfect collision of rowdy music, dancing, storytelling and drinking, the wrangling folk band lead you through the tale of Willy O'Connell whose love affair with whiskey leads him away from home and into the path of malt soaked Scots, wild women and old American moonshiners. We're told this medley of original songs and old time drinking tunes, part searing folk/blues sounds is best enjoyed with a wee dram in hand so join us at the bar from 7pm for a great evening of singing, dancing and drinking with this six piece band who promise a great evening ahead...

Supper will be available - remember it's first come, first served.

Book your tickets now - it's only £7 in advance or £8 on the door. Under 16s £5 in advance or £6 on the door.
